Speaking Truth to Power: Celebrating the Legacy of Saint Oscar Romero

October 16, 2018, 7:00pm

Movie Event: Romero

Please join us for this free event.
Popcorn and soda will be served.

Romero is a biography of the El Salvadoran priest Oscar Arnulfo Romero who was assassinated in 1980 by (it is suspected) a right-wing military death squad. The movie focuses upon the last years of Romero's life, when he became a human-rights activist opposing the rampant violence that existed in his country.

The roots of the violence in Central America and the fear engendered by our broken immigration system reach back many decades. As we celebrate the canonization of St. Oscar Romero, we make connections between the struggles of today and the legacy left to us by our most recently canonized saint.

Join us for a series of events that explore awareness, understanding and action in the changing demographic of the Catholic Church and society to transform fear into love. Registration is at aquinas.emory.edu for a full listing of the events.
